Caroline is a fully qualified micropigmentation practitioner with extensive experience gained across the whole range of cosmetic & Medical micropigmentation procedures, for both Men and Women.

She has carried out thousands of procedures for all kinds of clients including some well-known household names, within flagship retail stores. Each and every client Caroline works with has their own ideas of the look they are trying to achieve. She respects individuality and self-perception and values each individual's ideas and needs, recognising each person as special and important. Over the last 18 years she has set up and run her own salons, delivering high quality and client-focused services including micropigmentation, microdermabrasion, semi-permanent make-up, medical tattooing, correctional tattooing, scar camouflage, burns, cleft lip palette re-alignment and small tattoo removal.

Most recently, trained make-up artists and medical staff about semi-permanent make up and medical procedures, supporting learners across Northern Ireland, Ireland and England, as well as being at the end of her NHS nursing qualification.

Caroline has represented the micropigmentation industry at a high level, helping to set and raise industry standards of practice by working alongside key influencers including Sally Tabar and Claire Bennett. Acting as an advisor to the councils in England for the Beauty industry, regularly attending industry seminars, trade beauty events and shows. Even speaking at seminars run by Chartered Institute of Environmental Health.

Caroline delivers monthly semi-permanent make-up clinics here exclusively at The Little Retreat.
